| WorkSafeNB Premium Deferrals | New Brunswick businesses financially affected due to COVID-19. | Work Safe NB is deferring premiums for businesses for three months. Assessment premiums related to employer payrolls for February, March and April will be deferred for three months without interest charges. | Improved cash flow for the New Brunswick business community. | This affects employers who pay their premiums on a monthly basis. Note: No premium payments are due to WorkSafeNB until June. This measure is not a permanent reduction in assessments payable, but a temporary postponement of payment. For annually-assessed employers who provide an estimate of their yearly payroll to WorkSafeNB, you may submit a revised payroll estimate (representing an increase or decrease) during the year and WorkSafeNB can adjust your account. To learn more, please contact Assessment Services at 1-800 999-9775 (option 4), or visit the WorkSafeNB website: https://www.worksafenb.ca/about-us/news-and-events/news/2020/as-we-face-the-global-pandemic-of-covid-19-worksafenb-defers-premium-payments-for-three-months-with-qa/ |
| Working Capital for Small Businesses | New Brunswick small businesses. | GNB is providing operating loans of up to $100,000 to small businesses. Opportunities NB (ONB) will work with a trusted partner to administer the application process. More details will be available on the application process in the coming days. | Working capital loans for small businesses will be up to $100,000. | Companies considering a request should first (1) speak to their Financial Institution regarding options, (2) look for federal programs (3) and put cash flow projections together for 6 months to assess Working Capital needs. Existing ONB clients should contact their Business Development Executive. More information and application can be found here: https://www.cbdc.ca/en/gnb-small-business-emergency-working-capital-program |

|-------------------------------------|---|--|---|---|
| Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy | Eligible employers include individuals, taxable corporations, and partnerships consisting of eligible employers as well as non-profit organizations and registered charities. For employers experiencing a decrease in revenues of at least 30% in March, April and May, compared to the same months in 2019. Public bodies would not be eligible for this subsidy. Public bodies include municipalities and local governments, Crown corporations, public universities, colleges, schools and hospitals. | Eligible employers would be able to apply for the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy through a Canada Revenue Agency online portal. Employers would have to keep records demonstrating their reduction in arm's- length revenues and remuneration paid to employees. More details about the application process will be made available shortly. | The subsidy amount for a given employee on eligible remuneration paid between March 15 and June 6, 2020 would be the greater of: 75% of the amount of remuneration paid, up to a maximum benefit of $847 per week; and the amount of remuneration paid, up to a maximum benefit of $847 per week or 75% of the employee's pre-crisis weekly remuneration, whichever is less. In applying for the subsidy, employers would be required to attest to the decline in revenue. There is an expectation that employers will use this money to pay their employees and federal government is encouraging the businesses to top-up the wages paid to employees by the 25% as much as possible. Further guidance will be provided in the coming days. This will help businesses to keep and return workers to the payroll. | The subsidy reduces remittances of Federal, Provincial and territorial income tax withheld on the employees' remuneration. The subsidy does not reduce Canada Pension Plan or Employment Insurance remittances. For more information on Temporary Wage Subsidy, refer to CRA Frequent Asked Questions: https://www.canada.ca/en/department-finance/economic-response-plan/wage-subsidy.html |

|--------------------------------------|--|--|---|--|
| Temporary Wage Subsidy for Employers | Eligible employers include individuals (excluding trusts), non-profit organizations, registered charities, or Canadian-controlled private corporations (CCPC) who have an existing business number and payroll program account with the CRA on March 18, 2020; and pay salary, wages, bonuses, or other remuneration to an employee. | No application is required. The subsidy reduces remittances of Federal, Provincial and territorial income tax withheld on the employees' remuneration. | Up to 10% of an employee's wage from March 18, 2020 to June 19, 2020, up to a maximum benefit of $1,375 for each eligible employee and a maximum of $25,000 total per employer. For individuals this could mean payments of up to $847 a week. For employers that are eligible for both the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy and the 10% wage subsidy for a period, any benefit from the 10% wage subsidy for remuneration paid in a specific period would generally reduce the amount available to be claimed under the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy in that same period. | The subsidy must be calculated manually, either by you or whoever is responsible for making your payroll remittances. The CRA will not automatically calculate the allowable subsidy. The subsidy does not reduce Canada Pension Plan or Employment Insurance remittances.
